Sir Reginald Styles, a high ranking diplomat, is working late at night in preparation for a Conference, upon the results of which depend the peace of the world. Suddenly he is attacked by a mysterious guerilla who attempts to kill him then vanishes like a ghost.

Later the guerilla appears again in the grounds of Styles' house only to be attacked and hunted down by savage alien monsters.

Since UNIT is responsible for the success of the Conference, the Brigadier, Doctor Who and Jo Grant are soon involved. The Doctor's investigations lead him to decide to spend a night in Styles' house now empty since Styles has flown off in a last minute diplomatic mission.

At the house the Doctor and Jo are attacked by three more guerillas, Amat, Shura, and Boaz. They have travelled through time from the future and are grinly determined to kill Styles.

Jo tampers with one of their time machines and vanishes into the future. The alien monsters appear again and attack the guerillas. They return to their own time in order to escape and the Doctor is carried through time with them.

(He finds himself more than a 100 years in the future in a world ruled by his old enemies, the Daleks, who, with their new ability to travel through time have once again invaded earth, this time with complete success. They rule with the aid of human quislings and with alien monsters as a form of security police. The Doctor finds Jo an honoured guest of the Controller. A human quisling who rules this part of Earth for the Daleks. Jo believes the Controller to be benevolent and is horrified when the Doctor reveals that Earth has become one vast slave-camp, toiling for the benefit of the Daleks. Jo and the Doctor are rescued by the guerillas who now seek their help. The guerillas explain that Styles was responsible for an attempted coup in which top world leaders were killed. This set off a series of wars which so weakened Earth that the Daleks were able to take over with ease. The guerillas believe that if they can journey back through time and kill Styles the wars will not happen and Earth will be strong enough to defeat the Daleks.

The Doctor cannot believe that Styles is capable of murder. Then he realises the dreadful truth. One of the guerillas was left behind wounded, and with a supply of explosives. It was this guerilla who killed the world leaders in his attempt to destroy Styles. Trapped in a temporal paradox the guerillas themselves caused the catastrophe they are trying to prevent.

Jo and the Doctor journey back through time, escaping capture by means of a last minute act of self sacrifice by the Controller. They are pursued back to their own time by the Daleks and in a final desperate battle manage to save the life of Styles and the fellow diplomats, destroying the pursuing daleks and assure a future in which the Daleks will not rule).

We STAY WITH HIM for a moment as he gets nearer to the house. And then he gives one more look over his shoulder and reacts in terror. We don't see what he sees but it is enough to induce a near panic.

He starts to run.

We FOLLOW HIM to a country lane. He hurls himself over a five barred gate and crosses a field.

Still he runs, hotly pursued by some menacing enemy.

The field brings him to the edge of a railway embankment.

He is trapped. He can't run forward and doesn't know whether to go left or right. Jelow him the embankment is a sharp drop of fifty feet to the lines.

He turns back and then staggers backwards, falling over the edge.

Now we see that he has been fleeing from TWO MONSTERS menacing. Savage. Larger than life. They are humanoid in shape, with alien heads and hands.

On the railway line we PICK UP the BOLY OF THE GUERILLA. The gun beside him.

After a moment ONE of the MONSTERS COMES INTO SHOT. He leans over the DEAD MAN, sniles and then walks away and joins the OTHER.

We FOLLOW them into the mouth of the disused railway tunnel for which the embank-ment has been cut. As they enter it they disappear from view. Melting into the blackness.
